The data may have a number of errors which may include but are not limited to the following types of errors:

Spatial errors - The areas depicted by these maps/data are approximate, and are not necessarily accurate to surveying or engineering standards. X/Y coordinates may be in error by several hundred feet or more.

Registration errors - GIS data layers may not overlay each other correctly.

Attribute errors - Database information may be incorrect.

Currency errors - GIS data layers, databases and documents may not be the most current available or may not depict the specified time. All data are subject to constant change. Data input lags real-world changes by varying periods of time.

Completeness errors - Data may be missing or data may be included that does not belong.

Projection distortion - All map projections introduce distortion by representing the irregular shape of the earth's surface on flat maps. This affects feature shapes and map distances. The County of Inyo GIS Department attempts to choose projections which minimize these distortions when viewing most County of Inyo maps.
